4. Sewer Easements as Potential Trails – follow-up

- a. Edward got go-ahead from Dale and John Castille, will let us know about site visits
- b. Info from Ty Houck about using easement north of 291 for SRT Extension project: “We had looked at this and would use ReWa ROW where possible (if the railbed was not the best route for some reason). The sewer line is probably 12-20 feet below the railbed elevation close to 291 and to cross Laurens you need to be at the railbed so chasing that elevation would require 240 to 400 linear feet for a universally accessible grade and the slopes would require a lot of earth to be moved to get the needed trail with. “
